Personal Information Protection

PERSONAL INFORMATION PROTECTION ACT 2004

EXEMPTION UNDER SECTION 14

I, DAVID JOHN BARTLETT, Minister for Justice, being and as the Minister responsible for the administration of the Personal Information Protection Act 2004 ("the Act"), having considered the application dated 7 January 2011 made by the Acting Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services under section 13 of the Act for exemption from compliance with Personal Information Protection Principle 2(1) in respect of personal information stored on the Department's Tasmanian Health Client Index being accessed, disclosed and used for the purpose of its participation in the National Individual HealthCare Identifier Project, and being satisfied that the public benefit of exemption from compliance with the principle outweighs to a substantial degree the public benefit from compliance with the principle, hereby approve the application subject to the following condition:

That the Department and the Contractor enter into a confidentiality agreement approved by the Solicitor-General.

Dated this 2nd day of March 2011.

DAVID BARTLETT MP, Minister for Justice.

Details of the application

The Department of Health and Human Services ("the Agency"), as the personal information custodian of information in the Agency's Tasmanian Health Client Index ("THCI") applied under section 13 of the Personal Information Protection Act 2004 ("the Act") seeking an exemption under section 14 of the Act to allow the Agency to participate in the National Individual HealthCare Identifier Project (as an aspect of Australian eHealth development) which breaches or may breach Personal Information Protection Principle (PIPP) 2(1).

The project involves each person known to Medicare Australia who receives health care being allocated a unique identifier called the Individual HealthCare Identifier ("IHI"). The IHI will be used to enable accurate identification of a patient accessing various types of health care services.

The Agency is working with the National eHealth Transition Authority to develop an electronic mechanism to retrieve IHIs from Medicare and to undertake a review of the data quality within the current statewide THCI. The purpose of this work is to maximise the match rates between the THCI and the Medicare Australia IHI database.

The project will involve the disclosure of personal information in the Agency's THCI to a contractor IBM Australia and to Medicare Australia for the purpose of reviewing data quality and maximising match rates between the THCI and the Medicare Australia database of IHIs.

The public benefit to be gained from this project is that the IHI is designed to ensure that information relating to the delivery of health services to individuals is attributed to the correct person thereby reducing the likelihood of adverse consequences of incorrect identification and treatment.

It would be impracticable, if not impossible, for the Agency to seek the consent of every patient to the disclosure of the personal information but it is considered that there is no disadvantage to the individual from not seeking their consent to the proposed data matching and the public benefit in undertaking the project outweighs the public benefit in the Agency being required to comply with PIPP 2(1).

PERSONAL INFORMATION PROTECTION ACT 2004

EXEMPTION UNDER SECTION 14

I, DAVID JOHN BARTLETT, Minister for Justice, being and as the Minister responsible for the administration of the Personal Information Protection Act 2004 ("the Act"), having considered the application dated 7 January 2011 made by the Acting Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services under section 13 of the Act for exemption from compliance with Personal Information Protection Principles (PIPP) 2(1) (Use and disclosure), 3 (Data quality), 4 (Data security), 9 (Disclosure of information outside Tasmania) and 10 (Sensitive information) in respect of health information, personal information and sensitive information stored within the Agency's radiology, finance and patient administration systems being accessed, disclosed and used for the purpose of implementing its Tasmanian Radiology Information System/Picture Archiving Communication System (RIS/PACS) Radiology System Project, and being satisfied that the public benefit of granting an exemption from compliance with PIPP 2(1), outweighs to a substantial degree the public benefit from compliance with those principles, hereby approve the application for exemption from PIPP 2(1), subject to the following condition:

That the Agency and the Contractor enter into a suitable confidentiality agreement approved by the Solicitor-General.

Dated this 29th day of March 2011.

DAVID BARTLETT MP, Minister for Justice.

Details of the application

The Department of Health and Human Services ("the Agency"), as the personal information custodian of information in the Agency's Archiving and Communication systems, applied under section 13 of the Personal Information Protection Act 2004 ("the Act") for an exemption under section 14 of the Act to allow the Agency to contract with Philips Healthcare Australia in partnership with Kestral Pty Ltd (together referred to as the Contractor) to develop, install, test and bring into operation a new statewide Radiology Information System/Pictures Archiving Communication System (RIS/PACS) radiology system, including full data migration to the new system. This project will require the disclosure of health information, personal information and sensitive information to the Contractor for the purpose of performing the contract.

It is not practical to seek the consent of all persons whose health, personal and sensitive information is contained in the Agency's databases to the disclosure and use that information for this purpose. The risks of misuse or unapproved use or disclosure of the information by the Contractor are minimal and the Contractor is bound by Commonwealth legislative privacy obligations and will be bound by a proposed confidentiality agreement.

The public benefit which will flow from this project is greater electronic access statewide to radiological testing and reporting and more efficient use of public resources.

Our conscience is crystal clear.

Together we can make a difference.

Print Applied Technology remains ever vigilant in reducing the impact of its operations on the environment, and environmental management within our production facilities is considered a critical aspect of our business.

Our investment in a world class 'EcoClean' solvent recycling system from Europe has enabled us to recycle all our solvent liquids for reuse, instead of disposing of this material which is traditional industry practice. Waste paper is managed via extraction systems and a compaction unit, capturing and bundling all waste generated during the production cycle which is then collected for recycling, reducing landfill. Vegetable based inks are used where possible on our presses, and green office principles are employed.

Print Applied Technology now adds to these initiatives official certification by the Forest Stewardship Council (FSC). FSC certification is the "Gold Standard" for eco forestry worldwide, and as a 'Chain of Custody' certificate holder we can now assure our valued customers that selected papers sourced for our operations are from responsibly managed forests.

The use of the highly guarded FSC trademark now also allows our customers to demonstrate their commitment to the growth of responsible forest management. Further to this, we can now share with you the knowledge that areas of natural wealth and endangered wildlife habitat are not being adversely affected as a consequence of our paper sourcing policy.

You too can help to protect our environment, by promoting and using FSC products.
